It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

PREFACE.

This book is not an exhaustive Genealogy of the Emery Family in America, but a compilation and arrangement of such records as have been collected by the Genealogical Committee or furnished by other members of the family interested in this work, relating to the descendants of John and Anthony Emery, brothers, who came from Romsey, Hampshire, England, in 1635, and settled in Newbury the same year.

Many of the descendants of the two brothers are not to be found in this volume because their records have not been received and in many instances it has been impossible to obtain them, either because they had been destroyed or because the possessors had no interest in such a work.

There are in this country many bearing the name who are not descended from the Newbury emigrants; their ancestors having come to America subsequent to the coming of John and Anthony of Newbury, and there are others, descendants of the two brothers, who through lack of knowledge or want of interest are unable to trace any relationship to them.

It was the intention of the compiler not to publish the book till a larger part of the gaps in the record had been filled, but at the Annual Reunion held in Boston in September, 1889, the desire was general that such records as were in the hands of the committee should be arranged and published, and they were instructed by a unanimous vote that these should be printed before the next Reunion.

Great care has been taken to avoid errors but with the utmost attention perfect accuracy is impossible. The records are oftentimes conflicting and the compiler has been compelled to put down dates and facts which seemed to have the greatest probability.

There are many subjects of interest which, if time and the limits of this book allowed, might have been presented, such as the "Origin and History of the name," the "Coat of Arms" and the "Ancestors of John Emery of Romsey," but must find a place in a supplemental volume if such is desired by those interested in the Family History.

The thanks of the compiler are due to all the members of the Genealogical Committee and all others who have been engaged in this work, and who have aided either by records or the means of procuring them, particularly to John S. Emery and Thomas J. Emery of Boston for unflagging zeal and generous aid, to Edwin Emery of New Bedford, Mass., and Lieut. Jonas Aden Emery, U. S. A., Sackett's Harbor, N. Y., for their great assistance in reading and correcting the manuscript of this work.

RUFUS EMERY.

INTRODUCTORY NOTE.

BY REV. SAMUEL HOPKINS EMERY, FIRST PRESIDENT OF THE EMERY FAMILY ASSOCIATION.

This bulky volume took its rise in a family meeting of the Emerys, called by the following circular :

We, the undersigned, moved by what seems to us a becoming interest in the Emery name and family, invite all like-minded, who bear that name or who, once bearing it and valuing it, have married into other families, to assemble for a pleasant family reunion in "Ould Newberrie," whence so many of us sprang, on Wednesday, Sept. 3, 1879, gathering as near nine o'clock in the morning, as possible, at the Merrimack House, in Newburyport, whence those inclined can proceed in barges to places of interest to the Emerys in the old town, returning for dinner to the Merrimack House, sometime in the afternoon.

The only expense of the meeting will be one dollar for the dinner and fifty cents for the barge and a small assessment to meet the cost of calling the meeting.

Hoping the members of the Emery family will gladly and in large numbers respond to this call, we remain,

PART I.

JOHN EMERY, SEN. AND HIS DESCENDANTS.

* 1 JOHN EMERY, sen., son of John and Agnes Emery of Romsey, Hants, England, was born in England, Sept. 29, 1598; he sailed from Southampton, April 3, 1635, with his brother Anthony in the ship James of London, William Cooper, Master, their wives and one or two children each probably with them; he landed in Boston, June 8, 1635, and went soon after to Newbury where John, sen., had a town grant of half an acre for a house lot. John Emery was fined Dec. 22, 1637, by the town, twenty shillings for inclosing ground not laid out, or owned by the town, contrary to a town order, and on Feb. 1, 1638, the town granted him that part of ground which was already inclosed. He was made freeman June 2, 1641, and recorded as one of the ninety-one freeholders of the town Dec. 2, 1642; in the same year he was appointed with three others to make a valuation of all the property in the town, for the purpose of proportioning each man's share in the new division. On March 16, 1663, John Emery was presented to the Court at Ipswich by Henry Jaques, Constable of Newbury, for entertaining travellers and Quakers. May 5, 1663, his presentment for entertaining Quakers was referred unto next Court. The next Court fined him four pounds, costs and fees for entertaining strangers. The evidence given in the case was "yt two men quakers wr entertained very kindly to bed and table & John Emmerie shok ym by ye hand and bid ym welcome." Also, "that the witness heard John Emery and his wife say that he had entertained quakers and that he would not put them from his house and used argument for the lawfulness of it." John Emery in May, 1663, petitioned the General Court for the remission of his fine. His petition was signed by the selectmen of the town and fifty of the citizens. The fine was not remitted.

He was also prominent in the case of Lieut. Robert Pike, refusing to recognize the authority of the Court to deprive him and his neighbors of the right of petition. In the famous ecclesiastical difficulties John Emery was a member of the Woodman party.

April 10, 1644, he had a grant from the town of twenty-two acres and five rods being his own and Henry Palmer's portion of "Divident" land in the great field beyond the new town. He was selectman, 1661; fence viewer, 1666; grand juryman in the same year; jury of trials in 1672; appointed to carry votes to Salem in 1676. He married, first, in England, Mary ———, who died in Newbury, April, 1649. He married, second, Mrs. Mary Webster (née Shatswell) widow of John Webster of Ipswich, Oct. 29, 1650. He died in Newbury, Mass., Nov. 3, 1683. His wife died April 28, 1694. He made his will May 1, 1680, proved Nov. 27, 1683, in which he mentions his age as eighty-three years. The inventory of his estate was taken the same day, amounting to 263 pounds, 11 shillings. His wife made her will Aug., 1693, proved June 11, 1696.

In 1642 he had laid out to him fourscore acres over the Artichoke or Raspberry River. Forty acres of this land was a grant of the town of Newbury to John Emery, sen., and by him given to his son in consideration of love and affection. The remaining forty acres were bought of Archelaus Woodman for thirty pounds, being a town grant to him. This tract of land has been in possession of the name since it was laid out to John Emery, jun.; and now, included in the farm of the late Eliphalet Emery, Esq., of West Newbury, is owned by his daughter, Mrs. Mary Hale Emery. In 1679, March 3, "the town of (Newbury) granted John Emery, jun., twelve acres of land on the west side of Artichoke River, provided he build and maintain a corn mill to grind the town's corn from time to time and to build it within one year and a half after the date hereof." This mill is now known as Curzons Mills, Newburyport, Mass. John Emery, jun., was a signer of the petition in the case of Lieut. Robert Pike, and a member of the Woodman party in the church difficulties. He is styled Sergeant on the records. He was made freeman May 30, 1660; made his will Aug. 3, 1693. He went to Wells, Me., previous to 1698, probably as chaplain to the garrison stationed there. In the town records of 1698, he is mentioned as a minister of the town. March 17, 1701, the town voted to settle Mr. Emery as their regular minister and "to give him yearly 45 pounds to be paid one half in good merchantable provisions as follows: Wheat at five shillings a bushel; Indian corn at three shillings a bushel; rye at three shillings a bushel; pork at three pence a pound; beef at two pence a pound; and to cut and bring to his house twenty-five cords of fire wood and that he should have the use of the ministerial land." A church was organized Oct. 29, 1701. Mr. Emery was ordained Oct. 29, 1701, the churches of Newbury, Dover, Portsmouth and York being invited to assist. In 1716, the people being poor in consequence of the war, Mr. Emery relinquished all that was due, being a large part of the amount allowed him as salary. After this his people raised his salary to eighty pounds, and directed all mill rents to be paid to him and built a study for his use. The latter years of his life were disturbed by some troublesome matters. He was charitable and of a quiet temperament, performing his duty without ostentation, with zeal and courage fulfilling in an eminent degree the apostolic precept, "as much as in you lieth live peaceably with all men."

Me. Vol. Inf.; mustered into United States service Aug. 25, 1862. He was familiarly known throughout his brigade as "Uncle Sam." On the march his rifle and knapsack were frequently carried in the sutler's wagon while he busied himself saving rifles, belts and clothing which the other soldiers threw away.

He was too old and crippled to do a soldier's duty, and was discharged, but reënlisted in the invalid corps, and was a guard over prisoners of war, at the time of his death in Augusta, Me., May 1, 1865. His record is one of which his descendants may well be proud.

His is an example of American patriotism. He was an old man exempt from military duty, but went to the front, faced the enemy in the battles of Fredericksburg and Falmouth and in other desperate engagements, and was in the service when he died at the age of seventy. His widow died in Fairfield, Me., Sept. 26, 1866.

1474 MOSES⁸ EMERY (Moses,⁷ Moses,⁶ Moses,⁵ John,⁴ John,³ John,² John¹), son of Moses and Susannah (Woodward) Emery; married Sarah Cutts Thornton Nov. 27, 1823. His boyhood was spent in hardy toil at home, but an irrepressible desire for a liberal education pushed him forward in spite of adverse influences and obstacles, and finally crowned his self-supporting efforts with success. His impulse in this direction was stimulated by the kindred example of his uncle Stephen, who procured for him the use of Latin books, the mastery of which he achieved without instruction in hours of rest and by the glimmer of candle-light. In the autumn of 1813 he pursued a brief academic course at Bridgton Academy, which was cut short by a mandate to return to his accustomed field of labor. In 1814 having occasion to visit Bowdoin College whence his uncle was about to graduate, he was induced by him to offer himself for examination for admission. He passed the ordeal successfully and was granted a year's leave of absence. His father, taken by surprise, a Methodist clergyman at Brooklyn, procured for him through his brother Nathan the position of cashier in a dry goods house in New York City. But on reaching his majority he returned to college, trudging his way from Boston on foot. He was admitted to the sophomore class, graduated in 1818, having become a proficient in mathematical and classical studies, the love of which was ever afterward a constant guest. The money for defraying his college expenses was earned principally by teaching at Brunswick, Buckfield and Hebron Academy. In 1821 he was admitted to the bar at Wiscasset where he studied with Judge Bailey, who took him into co-partnership. But in 1825 having married Sarah C. a daughter of Marshall Thornton, he removed to Saco, his subsequent home. His professional life brought him in competition with John Holmes, the Shepleys, Daniel Goodenow, John Fairfield, Nathan Clifford and N. D. Appleton, and with them he shared the honors and emoluments of success. His career was characterized by untiring industry, accompanied by a will and zeal in behalf of his clients which would brook no defeat, if in any way victory was attainable by honorable methods. But his moral convictions, sometimes disturbed by application of the rigid rules of the common law, led him to become early enamored with equity practice, his success in which is sufficiently attested by the fact that in a list of nineteen cases, some of which involved important principles and large amounts, he lost but two. For many years he was the honored President of the York County Bar.

Up to Webster's 7th of March speech he was an ardent Whig ; after that he affiliated with the Republican party. But his taste was professional rather than political, although he once came within three hundred votes of an election to Congress in a strong Democratic district, but without any solicitation on his part. In 1836-37, then in the legislature, he, its draftsman, successfully engineered the enactment of the charter of the Portland, Saco and Portsmouth Railroad Company in the face of a powerful opposition.

Of the cause of education he was a prominent champion, and for a long period was President of the Board of Trustees of Thornton Academy. In the temperance reform he was a conspicuous pioneer ; as a member of the Unitarian denomination and as a citizen he was always in the front rank of those who strove for the elevation of the people, and for the material prosperity of the community in which he closed a long and honorable career, May 12, 1881.

PART II.

ANTHONY EMERY AND HIS DESCENDANTS.

I ANTHONY EMERY, second son of John and Agnes Emery, was born in Romsey, Hants, England; married Frances ———, and came to America in the ship "James," landing in Boston, June 8, 1635. He was probably in Ipswich, Mass., in the following August, and soon after settled in Newbury, where he lived until about 1640.

A court record of Dec. 22, 1637, shows that he was a brother of John, and a similar record of June 10, 1638, that he was then residing in Newbury.

He removed to Dover, New Hampshire, about 1640, and Oct. 22, of that year, signed the "Dover Combination." From that time until 1649, when he removed to Kittery, Maine, he was identified with the interests of that town. His house was at Dover Neck, about a mile from the present railroad station at Dover Point, and three or four miles from Major Richard Waldron's settlement on the Cocheco river. There he kept an ordinary, which was destroyed by fire, as appears from the following petition:

"Right worp com of the Massachusetts

The humble peticon of Anthony Emry of Dover

Humbly sheweth

Unto your good worp that your poore peticonr was licenced b the towne abousd to kept an ordinary wh shd give Dyet & to sell beere & wine as was accustomed & sithence there was an order that non but one should sell wine upon which there hath beene complaint made to your worp as Mr. Smyths saith & hee hath in a manner discharged your petr wch wilbe to your petr great damage haucing a wife & 3 children to maintain & not a house fitted for present to liue in haueing had his house & goods lately burnt downe to the ground "Humbly beseeching yor worp to bee pleased to grant to your petr that he may sell wine & that Mr Smyth may be certified thereof hee keeping good order in his house & he shall as hee is in Duty bound pray for your worps health & happyness."

This petition does not bear date, but it is known from other papers that Anthony Emery petitioned in 1643, for permission to keep an ordinary, and that March 7, 1643-4, he was "allowed whereby to draw out his wine." In that year and in 1648 also, he was one of the townsmen (selectmen) for the "prudentiall affaires" of Dover.

On November 15, 1648, he bought of John White, a house, field, and great barren marsh on Sturgeon Creek in Pischataqua, afterward Kittery, now Eliot, and two other marshes. He seems not to have taken possession, however, until the next year, for he served as grand juror in Dover, in 1649.

During his eleven years' (1649-1660) residence in Kittery, he was jurymen several times, selectman in 1652 and 1659, and constable. He was one of the forty-one inhabitants of Kittery, who acknowledged themselves subject to the government of Massachusetts Bay, Nov. 16, 1652. At four different times he received grants of land from the town. He also bought of Joseph Austin of Pischataqua, July 15, 1650, "a little Marsh soe Commonly called about Sturgeon Cricke, with a little house & vpland yrunto belonging, as also one thousand five hundred foote of boards, for & in Consideration of Two steers Called by ye name of draggon and Benbow, with a weeks worke of him selfe & other two oxen wch is to be done at Cutchecha."

In 1656, he was fined £5 for mutinous courage in questioning the authority of the court at Kittery, and in 1660, again fined, for entertaining Quakers, and disfranchised.

May 12, 1660, he and Frances his wife, sold house and land at Cold Harbor to son James for £150 together with all other lands in Kittery, "with all & singular the houseing, barne Garden oarchards Commans profetts privileges fences wood Tymber appurtenances & Haereditaments belonging, or in any way apprtayning thereunto."

Deprived of the rights and privileges of a freeman in Kittery, he turned his footsteps toward a colony in which greater liberty was allowed, and was received as a free inhabitant of Portsmouth, Rhode Island, Sept. 29, 1660.

It has been conjectured that he, prior to settling in Newbury, or removing to Dover, bought land in Portsmouth, and dwelt there awhile. This conjecture has its origin in the fact, that one "Good-man Emeres" owned land in Portsmouth in 1643, as is known from the records of a general town meeting held in Portsmouth, March 1, 1643.

Who "Goodman Emeres" was, or whence came the Little Compton, Rhode Island, family of Emerys, has been mere conjecture. We have been unable thus far to trace their genealogy, or to connect them with our ancestor, except in name and locality. We accept the Portsmouth records as evidence of Anthony Emery's first legal residence there until 1680, though he is designated "of Kittery," in a deed to his son James, Oct. 1, 1663.

He served as jurymen from Portsmouth on several occasions, was chosen constable, June 4, 1666, and deputy to the General Court, April 25, 1672. The last record that we find of him living is that of a deed of land in Portsmouth to Rebecca Sadler, his daughter, dated March 9, 1680. It is barely possible that he returned to Kittery, and that Anthony Emery who was representative from Kittery at York, March 30, 1680, was our ancestor, but it does not seem probable that he, an old man, disfranchised, would after twenty years' absence, be chosen to legislate for the "province of Mayne."

From the petition quoted, we know that he had three children, and from another paper, that James was his surviving son. We are thus enabled to give this list of children :

- 2 I JAMES,² b. in England about 1630; came to America with his father.
- 3 II A SON, name unknown.
- 4 III REBECCA.

It is difficult to estimate the character of Anthony Emery. From what little we know of him, however, we infer that he was a capable business man, energetic, independent, resolute in purpose, bold in action, severe in speech, jealous of his own rights, and willing to suffer for conscience' sake. He did not hesitate to express his opinions, though on one occasion it may have savored of "mutinous courage." He recognized a higher law than statute-law, and with the courage of his convictions, preferred to suffer the penalty of the latter rather than disobey the former and violate his conscience. In entertaining Quakers he obeyed the divine commandment: "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

2 JAMES² EMERY, SEN. (*Anthony*¹), son of Anthony and Frances Emery; came to America with his father in the ship "James;" married, first, Elizabeth ———. She died after 1687. He married, second, Dec. 28, 1695, Mrs. Elizabeth Pidge (née Newcomb), widow and second wife of John Pidge of Dedham, Mass. Administration was granted in 1691 to Elizabeth, widow of John Pidge, who died intestate. Inventory of the estate was filed June 19, 1691. "The account of Elizabeth Emery late Relict or widow and admin. of the Estate of John Pigg deceased in Dedham," and on June 10, 1709, James Emery presents the division of the estate. May 10, 1700, "James Emery of Dedham in New England, the only surviving son of Anthony Emery late of Portsmouth on Rhode Island and Providence Plantations deceased, quitclaims to his sister Rebecca Sadler alias Eaton, lands, estate Goods and Chattels of said Anthony Emery late deceased." In 1713, James Emery gives a deed in which he describes himself as of Berwick. It would seem that James Emery, after his election as representative to the General Court, resided in Dedham, and after the settlement of the estate of John Pidge or Pigg removed to Berwick. He had grants of land in Kittery, 1653, 1656, 1669, 1671; was selectman of Kittery, 1674, 1676, 1677, 1684, 1685, 1692, 1693, 1695; elected representative to the General Court, 1693, 1695; grand juror and constable, 1670. It is related of him that when he went to Boston his carriage was a chair placed in an ox cart drawn by a yoke of steers. This mode of conveyance was necessary as there was not in Kittery a carriage large or strong enough to carry him safely. He was a large man weighing over three hundred and fifty pounds. The date of his death is unknown, but from a deed given in 1714 in which his son James called himself James senior, it is evident it was before 1714.

Children, born in Kittery:

- 5 I JAMES,³ b. ab. 1658.
- 6 II ZACHARIAH, b. ab. 1660.
- 7 III NOAH, b. ab. 1663.
- 8 IV DANIEL, b. Sept. 13, 1667.
- 9 V JOB, b. in 1670.
- 10 VI ELIZABETH.
- 11 VII SARAH.

3 A son² (*Anthony*¹) of Anthony and Frances Emery. That there was a son is known by the fact that in 1643 Anthony Emery mentions having three children, and in 1700 James Emery of Kittery, but then of Dedham, gives his sister Rebecca Eaton alias Sadler a quitclaim to the estate of Anthony Emery late deceased. In this he is described as the only surviving son of Anthony Emery, late of Portsmouth, Rhode Island, and in power of attorney given by Anthony Emery to his kinsman John Emery of Newbury he mentions sons. It is probable that the name of this son was Anthony.

4 REBECCA² EMERY (*Anthony*¹), daughter of Anthony and Frances Emery; married, first, Thomas Sadler; second, Daniel Eaton, who died July 11, 1704. In 1714 she was a resident of Little Compton, R. I., and her son Anthony a resident of E. Greenwich, R. I.

The records of the first church in Kittery contain the notice of the baptism of three children of Noah and Elizabeth. The record is :

24 i RICHARD, }
 25 ii SAMUEL, } bapt. Sept., 1722.
 26 iii ELIZABETH, }

This record indicates that he was married and had children. He died before 1729.

8 DANIEL³ EMERY (James,² Anthony¹), son of James and Elizabeth Emery; married March 17, 1695, Margaret Gowen, alias Smith (born Nov. 15, 1678). He was a noted surveyor of land, having been elected surveyor of Kittery, 1706-1717; selectman, 1704-1712, 1718. In 1712 he was elected to attend the surveyors appointed by General Court to run the lines of the town, and in 1718 one of the Commissioners to mark the line between the common rights of Berwick and Kittery and to mark the division between Kittery and Berwick; moderator, 1707, 1718. He made his will April 5, 1722, proved Nov. 8, 1722. He died Oct. 15, 1722. He was chosen deacon of the Congregational Church, Berwick, Me., May, 1703, elder Nov. 21, 1720, and was probably one of the original members or "foundation brethren" of that church. His wife died Nov. 21, 1751.

11 SARAH³ (James,² Anthony¹), daughter of James and Elizabeth Emery, probably born in Kittery; married Gilbert Warren. The reason for giving James Emery a second daughter is found in the following sentence from a deed made March 17, 1767:

"We, James Emery, Daniel Emery, Job Emery and Gilbert Warren of ye town of Kittery in ye County of York in ye Province of ye Massachusetts Bay in New England and Sylvanus Knock of ye town of Dover in ye Province of New Hampshire in ye county aforesaid," give unto Zachariah Emery, son of our brother Zachariah Emery, a tract of land which was granted by the town of Kittery to our brother Noah Emery and to our brother Zachariah Emery. This deed contains the names of the sons of James Emery living at that date; for Zachariah Emery died before 1692, as his widow in that year married again, and Noah Emery is mentioned on the Kittery records as deceased in the year 1729. From the language used it is evident that Sylvanus Knock and Gilbert Warren sustained the same relations towards James, Job and Daniel; and as Sylvanus Knock was a brother-in-law, so we conclude that Gilbert Warren was also a brother-in-law, and from the Alfred records we find that Gilbert Warren and his wife, Sarah, Feb. 19, 1706-7 sold land in Kittery, and on Dec. 28, 1738, Sarah Warren, widow of Gilbert Warren, sold land in Kittery.

23 ZACHARIAH⁴ EMERY (Zachariah,³ James,² Anthony¹), son of Zachariah and Elizabeth (Goodwin) Emery; married Sarah — (died Oct. 8, 1732). He married, second, Rebecca Reddington, of Topsfield, Mass., May 20, 1733; married, third, Thankful Foster, June 26, 1744, who after the death of her husband, married Jona. Spaulding of Carlisle and died Aug. 31, 1785, aged 85.

Zachariah Emery resided in Chelmsford, Mass., enlisted June, 1745, in the Expedition against Cape Breton in Capt. Gershom Davis' Company. In Oct., 1745, he was sent to Boston as the agent of his company to make up the muster roll and being taken sick did not return to Cape Breton. After his recovery he petitioned the General Court for remuneration for the loss of his gun and that of his son Samuel who was in the same Expedition. He places the value of the two guns at twenty-five pounds and ten shillings. The sum paid him for his loss was three pounds and eighteen shillings.

He was bred to the trade of a cooper, but as he grew to maturity turned his attention to the law. In 1725 he was admitted to the bar by taking the required oath. In a certain deed of record he styles himself "a practitioner in the courts."

He thus attained the distinction of being, says Willis, "the first lawyer who ever resided in the state of Maine." His great grandson Nicholas, grandson of Noah of Exeter, it may be added in passing, became one of the Justices of the Supreme Court in the same state. The subsequent career of Noah proved that he had not mistaken his calling. The writer already cited characterized him as a lawyer "possessed of much legal acumen and accuracy; a ready draftsman, of quick perceptions and considerable ability, which gave him an extensive practice. He was repeatedly commissioned as "King's Attorney" for the Province of Maine, Attorney General of the state, as he would now be described. A man of bookish tastes, he had an interest in the Portsmouth Social Library and also had a library of his own. To his sons he bequeathed his "books of law, physic, divinity and history." One of these old law books was a copy of the earliest extant edition of the Laws of the Colony of Massachusetts, the edition of 1660. It now belongs to the Massachusetts State Library where it is carefully kept under lock and key, being "worth its weight in gold," says the librarian, since there are only two or three others in existence. His autograph and the date of its purchase are on the title page.

Mr. Emery was also a military man of local consequence, being captain of the "upper foot" company, in Kittery, in which there were nine other Emerys including the ensign. This office brought him into personal relations with Sir William Pepperrell then in chief command of the military forces of the state. A note from Sir William directing Captain Emery to have a detail of his command at Boston by a certain time discloses this fact. He died Dec. 9, 1761.

Through his influence, Elder (afterwards Doctor) Hezekiah Smith of Haverhill, Mass., came to Berwick and presented the Baptist cause, which resulted in the organization of the "First Baptist Church of Berwick," June 28, 1768, the first of that denomination in Maine. Mr. Emery's name stands first on the list of the seventeen original members and his wife Adah, the first of the six female members. He was elected elder at the First Church meeting. He was never ordained but preached most of the time in this church till his death. He built a fourth part of the meeting house and gave it to the church, and a parsonage also. She was a lineal descendant in the fifth generation of Thomas Dudley, second governor of Massachusetts. Noah Emery, before the end of his minority, became a resident of Exeter, N. H. In 1746, he was already settled there with his wife and child. He studied his profession in the office of Mr. Perryman and then entered upon the practice of law. He had inherited from his father large landed estates in New Hampshire, among which were certain "proprietary rights" in the township of Dartmouth, now the town of Jefferson. This property he conveyed by deed of gift to Dartmouth College in 1769, the year of its foundation, "in consideration of the extensive Charity of the Design."

Mr. Emery continued to lead a quiet life until the age of fifty when the outbreak of the Revolution at once brought him to the front. He was made deputy secretary of the fourth and fifth provincial congresses of New Hampshire and was a member of both. When the new government was organized, he became the clerk of its house of assembly and so continued through the greater part of the Revolutionary period. His name appears on the records for the first time under date of June 27, 1775, and for the last time under date of July 12, 1781. Within this period he was placed on many important committees: one to "make a Draft of some Solemn obligation to be entered into by the members" (a "New Hampshire Declaration of Independence"); one "to draw up a Plan for the Government of the Colony during the Contest with Great Britain;" one to sign the bills of credit and so make them into current money. The earliest records, now in the state house at Concord, are in his handwriting; among them that of the official copy of the Declaration of Independence, in red ink.

In 1776, he had been appointed clerk of the courts and this office he continued to hold till the close of his life. His death took place Jan. 17, 1788. He was a staunch patriot, and had an important hand in shaping the destinies of New Hampshire.

At seventeen years of age he was a soldier in the French and Indian war: at Lake George in 1758, probably in Capt. James Gowen's company, Col. Jedediah Preble's regiment, from April to September; in Sir William Pepperrell's expedition in 1759; corporal in Capt. Joshua Moody's company, from November, 1759, to Jan., 1761; sergeant in Capt. Simon Jefferds' company, Dec., 1761, to May, 1762. He removed from Berwick to Sanford, Me., about 1773, where he resided more than fifty years, a tanner, shoemaker, potash-manufacturer, trader, innholder, becoming one of its most prominent men, and holding many positions of honor and trust. He served in the Revolutionary war from May 19, to July 18, 1777, in Capt. Abel Moulton's company, Col. Jonathan Titcomb's regiment, when Rhode Island was threatened; in 1782, a member of the committee of safety; captain in the militia as early as 1785, major in 1786, and colonel in 1788, familiarly known as the "Old Colonel."

He was town clerk in 1780; selectman, 1780, 1785-6, 1791, 1801; representative, 1785-6; deputy sheriff, 1784-6; justice of the peace and of the peace and quorum, 1787-1820; postmaster, 1796-1804; one of the nine original members of the Congregational church, 1786, and its first deacon; in politics, a radical Federalist. He was one of the original grantees of Porter, Me., and in 1793 built the first mill in that town.

Colonel Emery was of humble birth, of indigent youth, of influential manhood, of venerable old age; endowed with good common sense, remarkable business capacity, keen discernment, rare judgment; austere in manner, unpolished, oftentimes severe in speech, yet of large heart and generous impulses:—a man of honor and integrity, though shrewd and exacting; of Christian faith, but sometimes wanting in Christian charity:—a man, indeed, of many faults, of redeeming virtues more.
